Good Morning

I was sending this email because the team has had some concerns about Daniel coming into the department causing issues. They are saying that he is putting himself on the schedule and discussing with them how things she be ran as well as my role and what I should be doing in the department. The team has come to me on several occasions about this matter and I just wanted to know if someone could speak with him. The team is saying that he is making them uncomfortable.

Thank You
